

I do not think that it is in the best interest of amateur radio to remove the code requirement. I am a volunteer examiner and I do not think that giving code exams is a problem.